Cavs' front line will be very stout

By GARY R. RASBERRY

COLDWATER — As the accolades have piled up for current Coldwater quarterback Brody Hoying and past Cavalier signal callers over the last 15 years, the offensive line of Coldwater has been the key cog in keeping defenses bogged down long enough for the QBs to perform at the highest level.

The current front five are not only experienced, but, in the words of head coach Chip Otten, also stout.

Some years, the front wall has been smaller than most of the defensive lines they square off against. This year, the potential starting line will tip the scales at an average of 235 pounds.

"It will help a lot when we're doing running plays," said senior Caleb Madaj. "We have more size to get people out of there (making room for plays). Size and strength will help us this year. For pass rush, it will help since we won't have small guys getting blown back by big games. It's evenly matched."

Three of the linemen — guards Blake Spangler and Madaj and right tackle Nick Clune — are returnees. Malave Bettinger, who will lineup at left tackle spot, missed most of last season with a torn ACL. Brandon Forsthoefel, the newcomer at the prime position, lines up at center after having seen significant playing time in the later stages of games last year.

The Coldwater offensive line rotation of, from left, Mitch Clune, Nick Clune, Blake Spangler, Brandon Forsthoefel, Calab Madaj, Malave Bettinger and Ross Siefring will look to give the potent Cavalier offense plenty of time to work this season.

"We have a lot of guys coming back," Nick Clune said. "We also have some good backups in Ross Siefring, Andrew Brunet and my brother Mitch. We've got a lot of guys who can play football because we know they are good."

The offensive line take their role seriously and show pride in keeping the pressure off the quarterback.

"It starts with preseason lifting," said Madaj, who with Spangler was second-team All-

MAC and an All-District honoree last season. "That helps a lot with pass rush and punches. During practice, we'll run a lot of drills where we have to step back and pass rush to give Brody a lot of time to throw the ball."

Experience on the O-Line is something the Cavaliers didn't have at the start of last year when they had to replace several players. It showed in the 2013 opener against Kenton when Coldwater lost 22-

After that game, Coldwater's line came together and helped the team to a second straight Division V state title.

"Last year we were all coming in green to the experience," said Clune. "No one knew what it was like to play the line in the varsity lineup. Now that we have all that experience, it's going to pay off. We know what to do. We made those holes (in the defense) last year. We know what to do this year."

Cav Chatter

FILLING THE HOLES — While returning Division V Offensive Player of the Year Brody Hoying (QB) will be the player that opposing defensive coordinators will spend extra time trying to contain, finding the skill players to replace the top receivers that graduated in the spring will be the challenge for the Cavalier staff.

With the likes of Mitch Schoenherr, Drew Otten and Adam Klosterman (who combined for 1,362 receiving yards and 16 touchdowns) gone, coach Chip Otten will look to players like Aaron Harlamert, Kraig Schoenherr, Chris (Petey) Post, Kyle McKibben and Brandon Kunk to help fill the spots.

DEFENSIVE WALL — While the offense lost a number of players at the skill spots, the defense has a strong group of returnees.

Defensive Tackle Mitch Fullenkamp (113 tackles, 9 sacks) and defensive end Nick Clune (56 tackles, 9 sacks) will lead the front line. Middle linebacker Jake Schmidt (101 tackles) and outside linebacker C.J. Seibert (92 tackles, three sacks) return to work the middle while Hoying (89 tackles, 4 interceptions), playing safety on defense, and cornerback Derek Thobe (21 tackles, 5 interceptions) bolster the secondary.

A GOOD START IS IMPORTANT — Much like last year, the first two weeks of the season will be a major determining factor to where the Cavaliers go this season as they open at Kenton and then host Bishop Hartley in a rematch of last December's state title game.

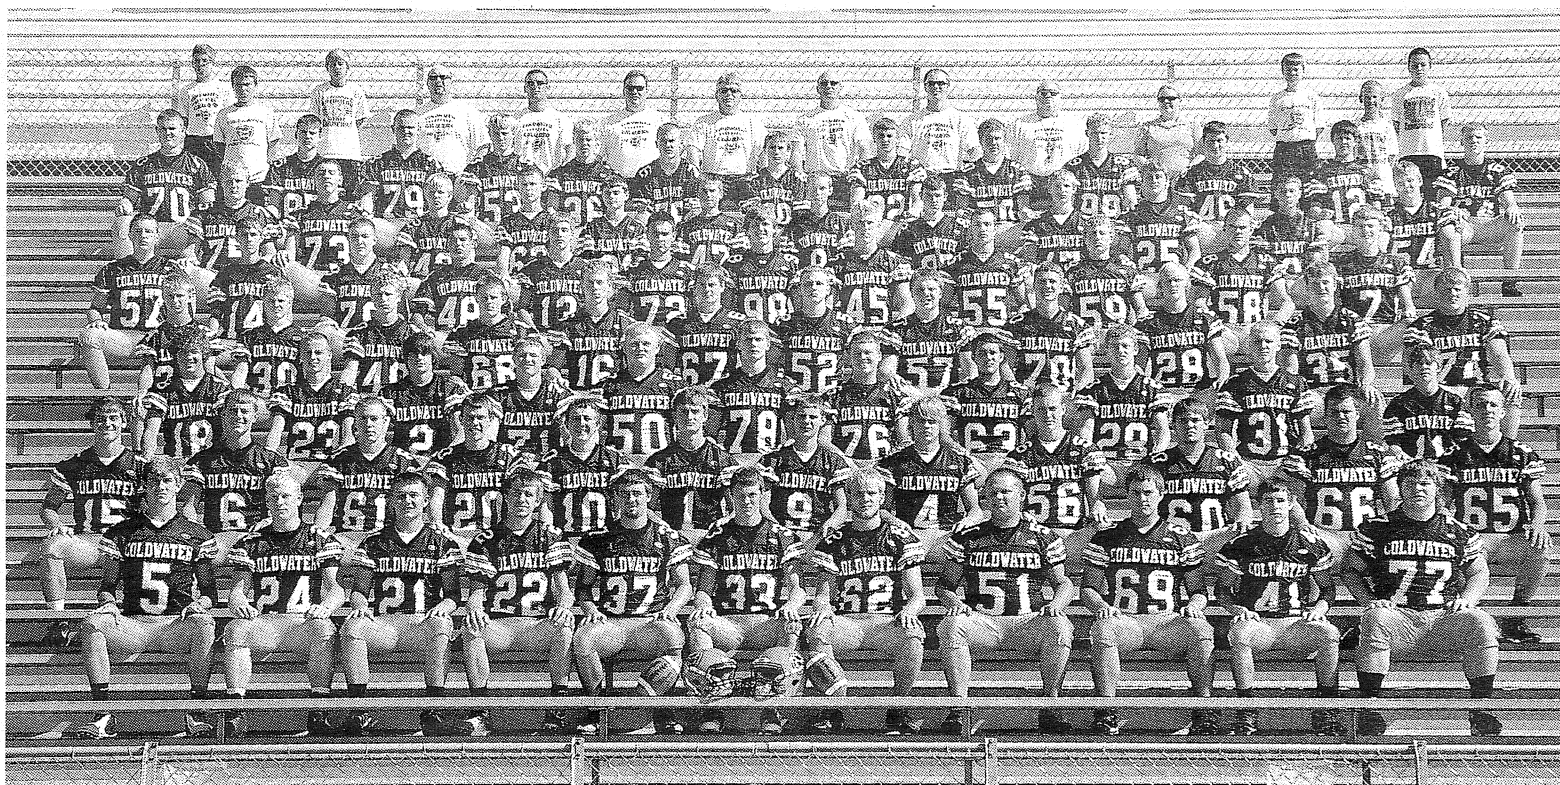

Coldwater lost 22-2 to Kenton in the opener last season and had to rally to beat Hartley in Columbus.

A 2-0 start this season should have the Cavaliers in line to host Week 11, while a split or even an 0-2 start could put the Cavaliers' current state-best consecutive play-off appearance streak (currently 17 straight) in trouble.

- Brandon Forsthoefel C
- Aaron Harlamert WR/CB
- Brandon Kunk OLB

Prospective tight ends and linebackers include Teddy Fisher, Andrew Gillum, Tony Rammel, Collin Seitz and Cory Selhorst

Head Coach Chip Otten cites team speed, depth at multiple positions, big play capabilities and the kicking game among the strengths expected in this year's team. The biggest challenge will be replacing several graduates who held key positions and provided excellent team leadership. Players lost to graduation are Mitch Schoenherr RB/LB, Austin Klosterman C/DT, Adam Klosterman WR/CB, Andrew Schwieterman DE, Drew Otten OLB/WR and Matt Kramer K.

"Despite losing several key players to graduation, we are fortunate to be returning a good number of lettermen. We are cautiously optimistic that we can be an improved football team", said Coach Otten.

"The schedule is a challenging one once again this season as 7 opponents are former state champions (Kenton, Hartley, Minster St. Henry, Marion Local, Versailles, St. John), and as always, keeping key players healthy is a major concern for us."
