Backyard Battle #37 Goes to Coldwater

The Coldwater Cavaliers won their 13th straight Backyard Battle with a 17 point shutout of the St. Henry Redskins.

It was a wet evening as over two days of rain left the field a soggy mess and a light drizzle only made it worse, the field degrading as the night wore on.

Both team struggled with footing and handling the ball. St. Henry struggle more though as they could only muster 92 yards of total offense on the night against a stingy Cavalier D who only allowed one yard of rushing to the Redskins. Meanwhile the Cavs navigated the sloppy conditions to 271 yards of total offense.

Keith Wenning completed 11 of his 20 passes for 168 yards and one touchdown. He added another 79 yards on the ground to lead all rushers. Aaron Rammel had 31 yard rushing and along with Reese Klenke had 49 yards receiving.

Late in the first quarter, Coldwater drove 38 yards on 8 plays to a fourth down at the St. Henry 14 yard line. Despite the field conditions Coach John Reed put the outcome of this drive on the foot of Troy Otten and the sophomore converted a 21 yard field goal to give the Cavs a 3-0 lead with 1:22 left in the first.

Reese Klenke snagged a 14 yard TD pass in the second quarter and Wenning capped the scoring with a 7 yard run late in the third quarter to round out the scoring.

The rest of the game saw the teams trade 14 punts as they could not sustain long drives.

MAC Title On The Line At Delphos

After five weeks of MAC competition Coldwater and Delphos stand alone on top of the league with unblemished 5-0 records. Both team are also unbeaten over all at 7-0.

Coldwater is ranked #1 in the D5 poll and Delphos is #1 in D6 and is the reigning D6 champion.

Take all that and add two teams who are equally capable of putting up loads of points and defenses that shut it down and what more could you ask for? (except maybe a dry starry night) This one has all the makings of a MAC Classic.

Both teams should be able to handle their final two opponents so this game is probably for all the marbles, the winner having the inside track for an uncontested MAC title.

Coldwater leads the all-time series 21-13-1 and they have won their last 6 meetings including last seasons 51-7 victory.

Coldwater has some streaks that their fans would like to see continued. The have won 21 consecutive MAC games and 13 straight home games. They also have 25 consecutive regular season victories. Their last regular season road loss was a 12-10 decision at Versailles in 2003.

Of course all the players care about is playing well enough to win on Friday night.
