The Week in the MAC

Last week I offered the possibility that if Coldwater and Marion Local both lost to Anna and Minster that it would throw the MAC into a four way tie with 2 games to play.

Holy speculations Batman! The unthinkable actually happened! Take a look at the standings to the left if you don't believe it. Coldwater was absolutely humbled by Anna while Minister flipped the script from their 1 point loss to the Flyers last season to win by 1 point this season.

It was mentioned in local social media that if one looked at the Friday night MAC scoreboard you would think we were in the twilight zone. Coldwater got thumped, Fort beat St. Henry, Minster over Marion, Parkway puts 49 points on St. Johns and New Bremen beats Versailles by three scores. Did Halloween arrive two weeks early?

In Region 23, a loss by Liberty Center and wins by Kenton and Mt. Healthy returned Coldwater back to the #1 seed just ahead of Anna.

Next Week: St. Henry

Time once again to renew the Backyard Battle rivalry as St. Henry visits the friendly confines of Cavalier Stadium.

St. Henry was expected to perform better than they have this season as they enter the contest at 1-7 mirroring Coldwater's 7-1 mark.

Coldwater thought they would be 8-0 entering this contest a few weeks ago. But Anna ended the Cavaliers streak of perfection.

Last season The Battle went to St. Henry as the Redskins ended a 22 game losing streak to the Cavs by a score of 28-10.

Coldwater got a measure of revenge as they ended the Redskins season in the Regional Semifinal by a single point 20-19.
